OER17 Personal Highlights

My presentations and personal highlights from the amazing OER17 Politics of Open Conference in London, April 2017.

Great to be there as part of such a fabulous team...

Perspectives on open education in a world of Brexit and Trump.

I think we all felt a bit unprepared for this panel, but it went really well and generated a lot of in depth and thoughtful discussion. It was a real pleasure to sit on a panel with these people, especially Maha who I finally met face to face for the first time. Huge thanks to Jim Luke for organising.

intersectionality key says @LornaMCampbell #trexit #OER17 - what to do with our anger, how to channel effectively?

Scott Wilson @scottbw

@sheilmcn @LornaMCampbell oddly enough, ‘intersectionality’ seems to be word of the day here in the biz-int & data space

@LornaMCampbell Totally agree re ur thoughts & reflections on combining social and professional identities. What will happen? #OER17 #trexit @LornaMCampbell It's definitely not easy managing lots of layers and corners of digital identities and sort of also embodying them at the right times ;)

@NadinneAbo Absolutely. And then there's always the fear of saying the wrong thing in the wrong space...

@LornaMCampbell My goodness yes! Especially in f2f environments and diff identities there! At least in the text-based digital, u can reread and edit.
